A Week of Inventing for our little Inventurers at the Inventure Preschool, Whitefield- Students set off to a week-long Inventing programme.

Inventing 2.0 at Yeshwanthpur Campus

During the week-long Inventing 2.0 programme, students of Grade 1 – Grade 5 were introduced to a thought process where they learnt to look at 'problem solving'. They explored issues through an interdisciplinary lens, incorporating English, Math, and Theme. Through real-world experiences, they brainstormed solutions to age-appropriate problems and made observations, analyzed potential causes, summarized their findings, and creatively presented these to the wider community.

These experiences, integrating skills acquired from Art and Makerspace, enhanced their learning journey. They also dealt with grade appropriate problem statements which were connected to the current water crisis. They undertook experiments with a hands-on approach. Additionally, 'Immersive Learning' was experienced through field trips and guest lectures. The children also worked on the techniques of taking notes and this helped them to reflect on their learning. Their learnings were showcased to the parents and the Inventure Community at the Celebration of Learning (CoL) held on 7 and 8 June.

Inventure Faculty: Levelling Up for Students' Success.

In the month of May, the faculty started the new academic year with power-packed Professional Development sessions. This was to ensure that they are equipped with all the tools and knowledge to make the new academic year an outstanding experience for each and every student.

The sessions began with a motivational Lets Go! message from our Co-Founder and Managing Trustee, Nooraine Fazal. Her enthusiasm was contagious, and it set the pace for a session focused on growth and learning. Please view using this link - Lets Go

Our teachers participated in Back to Basics: Assessments Workshops designed to make sure that evaluations are even more effective in highlighting a child's unique strengths and needs. This would translate to an even more personalized learning experience for each of our learners.

The teachers also went on a deep dive into their specific subjects. This helped them to strengthen their content knowledge and teaching skills, to make it even better at guiding students through their learning journey.

A Week of Inventuring for our little Inventurers at the Inventure Preschool, Whitefield.

Inventure Preschool, Whitefield welcomed the little Inventurers back to school this week. The new school year began with a kaleidoscope of colours, as they embarked on a captivating quest – Chasing a Rainbow!

They set off to a week-long Inventuring programme, filled with exciting activities designed to make the little learners feel at home in their new classrooms. The little ones went on to indulge in activities such as making paper and trying their hand at fireless cooking where they served up delicious treats. They also explored the science behind soap-making. These were not just fun and games, each activity was carefully chosen to spark curiosity, build connections with teachers, and most importantly, make settling back into school a joyful experience.
